

Today's seminar aims to illustrate that project work can be fun, inspiring, challenging, pedagogically valuable, and more importantly, practicable for both teachers and students.

